

Killalea Face-to-Face Consultation Moved to Online Forum this Week due to Severe Weather Conditions

Community engagement meetings on the Killalea Enhancement Project scheduled for this week in Shellharbour will be moved to an online forum due to severe weather conditions.

Extensive flooding in NSW has led to multiple road closures, flood warnings, evacuations and a NSW Government request to minimise non-urgent travel.

Given these extreme conditions and our concern for community safety, the face-to-face engagement sessions planned for this week will be offered to registered participants online via the Zoom platform.

Face-to-face consultation will recommence Tuesday, 27 April 2021 to allow people unable to participate in this week's Zoom sessions a chance to be involved and have their say. All members of the public will have a chance to register for these sessions.

Reflections are keen to meet with people and for a dialogue to develop based on trust and respect. Consultation will determine the way forward for this project with our upcoming sessions a great opportunity to see if we can make something work that meets everyone's needs and priorities.

The purpose of the engagement sessions is to:

- Introduce the Reflections team – to give faces to the names, and to explain that Reflections is not a corporate, profit-making organisation
- Explain why and how the grant for development of Killalea came about, and to answer some of the questions as to why the community haven't been consulted earlier, or asked what they thought of the proposed plans
- Explore how Reflections can meet its obligations in maintaining a park for the enjoyment of campers, holiday makers, visitors, surfers, walkers and those with an interest in the environment, natural elements and Indigenous and non-Indigenous history and heritage which the site holds in abundance
- Understand how Reflections can work with those that love the park, visit the park and use the park so that Killalea can remain a much loved, visited and well-looked after asset for everyone – locals, visitors and the NSW public

We look forward to meeting with you, both online in the coming days and in person in a couple of weeks.
